"I'm so excited!" says Rumer, who bested singer Riker Lynch and Army vet Noah Galloway.

RUMER'S BIG WIN!

Take that, haters! Rumer Willis and her pro partner, Val Chmerkovskiy, fox-trotted their way to victory on Dancing With the Stars' May 19 finale. And while the singer — who faced cruel taunts about her looks as a child — excitedly told Us she was "happy for myself and so unbelievably proud" of Chmerkovskiy, 29, she dedicated her mirrorball trophy to those who've dealt with bullying. "I hope that it stands for anyone who didn't think that they deserved to do something," said Rumer, who received perfect scores from the judges for her finale dances. She added that shimmying in front of 13 million viewers a week was transformative: "Being able to stand proudly and put your whole self on the dance floor and have such a positive response — that speaks volumes."

CHEERING WITH THE STARS Yelling the loudest: her famous clan. Mom Demi Moore, 52, dad Bruce Willis, 60, stepmom Emma Heming Willis, 36, and sisters Scout, 23, and Tallulah, 21, screamed their support from the 26-year-old's fan section. (Her action-hero pop even teared up after her May 18 performance to Hozier's "Take Me to Church.") "I'm thrilled," Moore told Us of the win. "She worked hard, she earned it. She's amazing." Other A-listers also took notice, with Gwyneth Paltrow, Sofía Vergara, Miley Cyrus and ex-stepdad Ashton Kutcher all urging Twitter followers to vote for Rumer. But the champ says it's her family's love that means the most: "They're so wonderful. They cheer me on in whatever crazy endeavors I decide to do!"

CHURCH BREAK

After more than 30 years as a member of the Church of Scientology, Leah Remini audited her life. Her moment of clarity came while completing three and a half hours of mandatory daily study at a Florida hotel. "I saw my daughter swimming for the first time while I'm reading," the 44-year-old mom of Sofia, now 10, said in an Oprah Winfrey interview that aired May 16. "A tear came down my face." (She broke ties with the church in 2013.) The church dubs Leah's claim "a pathetic attempt to get publicity." But her sister Nicole, 47, who left the church in 2005, tells Us the statement says it all: "If you were a church full of love and compassion . . . these are the words you use to describe someone who has given you millions of dollars?"

A superfan of the 1989 hit, Adam Levine channeled John Cusack's "In Your Eyes" scene — when Lloyd Dobler blasts his boom box outside his dream girl's window — in a May 14 Instagram photo. Wrote the Voice coach: "I've always really wanted to do this!"

Titanic

Sixteen years after giving Kate Winslet a thrill, Leonardo DiCaprio (rear) returned to form during his Wolf of Wall Street costar's SNL monologue. "Can we do that thing that made me feel safe?" Jonah Hill asked during the 2014 bit.

When Harry Met Sally

Keira Knightley (bottom) had what Meg Ryan's having. In February, the actress revisited the hilarious fake-orgasm-in-a-deli scene from the 1989 romantic comedy as part of a "British Invasion" video shoot for Vanity Fair's annual Hollywood Issue.

"We both get sad," the Indiana native says of time away from Leah. "She misses her mom."

A Teen Mom's Custody Battle

Amber tells Us about her fight for Leah

Teen Mom OG's Amber Portwood has a mother of a problem. More than a year after she was released from prison (she served 16 months for drug-related charges), the 25-year-old is struggling to gain more access to her daughter with Gary Shirley, 28. Because Portwood signed custody over to Shirley pre-prison, her ex dictates when she sees 6-year-old Leah. "Gary has full control over me," explains the now-sober college student, noting that Shirley only lets Leah sleep over on weekends. "I feel helpless." The star of the MTV hit (part 1 of the reunion special airs June 1 at 10 P.M.) tells Us she wants fifty-fifty custody of the little one: "I've proven I can be trusted. I shouldn't have to keep paying for what I did in my past."

WEDDING BELLS? Meanwhile, her one-year romance with fiancé Matt Baier is drama-free. While Portwood and the Boston transplant, 44, have yet to set a date, she says they're very much in love. "We want to have time together first," she says, "but we know one day we will get married."

The Lion King

It's the circle of life! Tallulah Willis and her pup summoned the presentation-of-the-future-monarch scene from the 1994 Disney flick. "Hiking with Meiko: lion king edition," she posted on Instagram after a hike in L.A.'s Runyon Canyon last fall.

Dirty Dancing

First, Patrick Swayze gave Jennifer Grey a lift in 1987. Then, Ryan Gosling (bottom right) and Emma Stone had the time of their lives mimicking the move in 2011's Crazy, Stupid, Love. Promoting the film on Today, a game Gosling hoisted Al Roker!

Their Baby Struggles

Kardashian will explore surrogacy this summer

After unsuccessfully trying for a year to have a second baby, Kim Kardashian and Kanye West are exploring all options. "Kim has been undergoing IVF," an insider says of the E! star. "It's causing problems with her body." And on the May 31 episode of Keeping Up With the Kardashians, a heartbroken Kardashian, 34, will reveal that an implanted embryo did not take. In the meantime, a source says, she and West, 38, may start to pursue a surrogate in June. Adds the source: "They will do surrogacy over adoption." The mom longs to give North, 23 months, "a sibling close in age," says a pal. "Just like she is with her sisters."

West (with North April 24) "wants a son too," says a source.

"She is desperate to get pregnant again," a source says of Kardashian (in Burbank, CA, May 13).

Romance Back On!

Emma Stone and Andrew Garfield's love story isn't over, sources confirm to Hot Stuff. Though the Aloha actress, 26, called off their three-and-a-half-year relationship in January because, as one insider puts it, Garfield "was in a dark place" preparing to play a 17th century Jesuit priest in Martin Scorsese's thriller Silence, the two stayed in contact while he filmed in Taiwan. When the flick wrapped in early May, the Brit, 31, rushed stateside to rekindle their bond. Says the source, "The first thing he wanted to do was see Emma." By May 19, the couple were holding hands over a pancake breakfast at the Malibu Farm cafe. "He's making a real effort to win her back," adds a second source. "It seems to be working."

For Robert Downey Jr., home is where his couch is. In Atlanta to film Captain America: Civil War, the 50-year-old had a houseful of furniture shipped from L.A. to his temporary residence. "Whenever he rents a place, he has all the same furniture sent so there's consistency from rental to rental. It comes in big semis," says a source. "He does it for a sense of comfort."

"Janet thought they were just having a sushi date night," a source tells Hot Stuff. "When she got to the patio, 30 of her closest friends and family were there" — including brother Jermaine, 60 (in head-to-toe Louis Vuitton). One dessert only wouldn't do for the pop star, who recently announced a 2015 album and tour. "They had two beautiful cakes," the insider says of the affair. "Janet and her group danced until 1:30 A.M.!"

25 Things YOU DON'T KNOW ABOUT ME

The Republican senator from Kentucky (and presidential hopeful!), 52, fills Us in

Paul announced his candidacy for the 2016 election on April 7.

1. My wife [Kelley, 51] and I met at an outdoor oyster roast in Atlanta. At first, she thought I was much younger than I actually was and she gave me the cold shoulder. Eventually she realized that I was 26 years old, and we hit it off!

2. As a child, I loved to collect old coins with my grandmother.

3. The same grandmother inspired me to become an ophthalmologist. As her vision began to fade, I became her eyes when we inspected mint marks on coins.

4. I am the father of three: William, 22, Duncan, 19, and Robert, 16. When they were little kids, I loved coaching their soccer, baseball and basketball leagues.

5. My son turned me on to Sundy Best, a country duo from Prestonsburg, Kentucky. Check them out!

6. As you have probably heard by now, I am my own barber. In fact, I cut my own hair on my wedding day, which is evident in our wedding photos.

7. Mostly I watch the news, but I do like reruns of The Twilight Zone.

8. I grew up swimming and, as a teenager, I taught swim lessons to make extra spending money.

9. I was a collegiate swimmer at Baylor University. I still enjoy swimming as a way to keep in shape.

10. I studied hard and scored high enough on the MCATs to be admitted to Duke University's medical school without a bachelor's degree.

11. Some would say I have a green thumb. I love working in the yard on my days off. Mowing the lawn is very therapeutic for me.

12. Each summer, members of Congress host a congressional baseball game to raise money for charity. I have played on the Republican team every year since I have been in office. My position: outfield!

13. I'm not an expert stargazer, but I can recognize many of the constellations and am always interested to see the next eclipse.

14. I planted a cherry tree in our front yard in Bowling Green, Kentucky, from seeds that came from the cherry trees along the Tidal Basin in Washington, D.C.

15. Before I ran for office, I was an ophthalmologist in Bowling Green. I still conduct pro bono surgeries in Kentucky and abroad. Last year, I went to Guatemala. This year, I'll travel to Haiti.

16. My given name is Randal. Kelley started calling me Rand, and it stuck!

17. My favorite drink? Root beer float.

18. I am responsible for cooking the Thanksgiving Day turkey. I have a special recipe that involves placing fresh herbs under the skin, covering the turkey in cheesecloth and basting it in Madeira wine and butter. It's a labor of love.

19. I love biking. On a weeknight, you can find me biking around our neighborhood. It's a great way to unwind.

20. There's a bald eagle that lives in a high nest across the pond from my backyard.

21. A rare hobby of mine: composting! Because of my composting, I guess I qualify as a "crunchy-con."

22. I am the author of three books: The Tea Party Comes to Washington, Government Bullies and Taking a Stand.

23. My favorite book is The Brothers Karamazov by Fyodor Dostoyevsky.

24. Growing up, my parents did not enforce a curfew. They believed excessive rules can have unintended consequences.

25. One thing I never travel without: my Ray-Ban sunglasses. It's important to protect your eyes from the sun.

Shocking Bachelorette Bombshells

From Kaitlyn Bristowe's roll in the hay to an extreme bromance, this season's surprises are explosive! BY SARAH GROSSBART

It takes a lot to shock the woman who once told Bachelor and farmer Chris Soules, "You can plow the f--k out of my field." So as Kaitlyn Bristowe navigated the surprises of her first days as the Bachelorette — besting fellow wannabe Britt Nilsson in a vote and coping with musician Brady Toops' blindside of an exit — the spunky Vancouver, British Columbia, native says she never felt truly thrown. "I mean, you go into it thinking, It's The Bachelorette. I'm sure something dramatic will happen," she recently told Us. "You've kind of got to brace yourself for it."

Viewers would be wise to follow suit. Bristowe's season-preview confession that she — gasp! — had sex with a contestant is just one of the shockers in this round of the ABC love hunt (Mondays, 8 P.M.). A show insider crowns No. 11 "the craziest season, definitely." And it wasn't just the dancer, 30, who brought the drama. Naturally, a few of her suitors (standouts include suave architectural engineer Clint Arlis, 27, and rugged ex–football player Ben Zorn, 26) weren't there for the proverbial "right reasons." "There's always people there with the wrong reasons, right?" host and Perfect Letter author Chris Harrison recently told Us. "Thank God! It makes for great television." Us previews five curveballs.

KAITLYN GOT BUSY FAST

Bristowe didn't wait for Harrison to invite her and her overnight-date partner to stay "as a couple" in a candlelit bedroom. "She sleeps with somebody before the fantasy suite," says a show insider of that darkened-window teaser shot accompanied by a heavy-breathing soundtrack. "She wasn't wasted. She just couldn't help herself. She's very physical." Indeed, the brunette admitted, "If the physical part of the relationship isn't there for me, that's a deal-breaker."

While Bristowe told E! News on May 20 that choosing to have sex "is something that I'm not ashamed of," the insider reveals she regretted doing it so soon. "She was devastated," says the source. "She doesn't think there was anything wrong with it. She just wished it had happened further along."

Her guilt led her to disclose the between-the-sheets encounter to the other front-runners. "She knew she had to say something just to unburden herself," says the insider. And the fact that 7 million viewers — including her final guy — would learn about the tryst also factored in. "She realized it was going to be broadcast, and she's seen these things hurt relationships. She figured it was better to be up-front." Bristowe dropped her bombshell selectively, though — "just to the guys she was serious about," says the source. She told each "one-on-one when she felt she needed to." The reaction was predictable: "They were all upset. It changed everything."

Still, Bristowe makes no apologies to judgmental fans. "I think it's just a big deal because it's The Bachelorette and they haven't really gone there," she opined to E! News after internet backlash. While the franchise's couples demurely say they'd love to spend camera-free time together as they shut the door on that intrusive lens, "it's just kind of been this secret world in the fantasy suite," says Bristowe, "and nobody's actually just said it out loud." Season 16's Courtney Robertson — who waited till her tell-all book to admit to having sex with eventual fiancé Ben Flajnik in the ocean — thinks it's about time someone did. "In real life, if you were dating for two months, it's natural," the Bachelor alum tells Us. "So for me, I'm like, 'You go, girl!'"

X-RATED ANTICS ABOUND

Skin is still in for Bristowe, who doffed her bikini bottoms for Soules on a California camping date. During the June 1 sumo wrestling match, six of the aspiring grooms don traditional mawashi. The skimpy, thonglike outfits precipitate more than a few wardrobe malfunctions — so many, in fact, that Bristowe exclaims she's seeing all the guys have to offer!

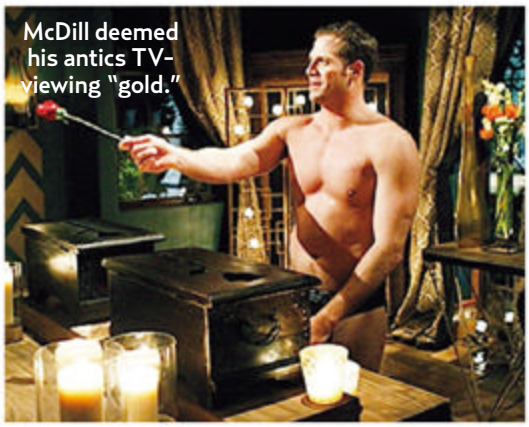

One episode earlier, the female anatomy took center stage — literally. When the guys tried stand-up at the Hollywood Improv comedy club, viewers never saw the routines performed by the female comics brought in as coaches. Which means viewers also never saw Bridget Everett motorboat Kentucky insurance agent Joe Bailey, 28, and another of Bristowe's hopefuls in front of an audience! Also coming soon: talk of chlamydia and the beauty of someone's "snake" — and an entire date centered on teaching sex ed to grade schoolers!

SHE AND NICK FLIRTED PRESHOW

Andi Dorfman's second-place guy, Nick Viall — the one who berated the Bachelorette for dumping him after she took him to bed — arrives on the June 8 episode for a second try at love. But the Chicago software sales exec began his pursuit of Bristowe months before crashing her group date. When the fun-loving Canadian caught his eye during

Ex-contestants sound off on thorny issues

McDill deemed his antics TV-viewing "gold."

» He got drunk, groped Bristowe and asked a rival, "Why am I not raping you?" But Kansas City, Missouri, "junkyard specialist," er, car-parts dealer Ryan McDill, 28, regrets nothing. The ex of Bachelor alum Nikki Ferrell told TMZ that offended fans "need to get off their high horse. . . . It was awesome and entertaining."

» Rebuffed on May 19's show, Chicago exotic dancer Josh Seiter, 27, promptly accused producers of coaching. "They wanted me to take my shirt off and my pants off," he said in a May 21 Southgate Media podcast. Host Chris Harrison wasn't beyond reproach: Seiter tweeted that he is a "diva" who treats staff like "personal servants."

Seiter called Harrison "shameful."

Soules' season (in a series of tweets he called her "incredible," "the bomb" and "the total package"), he tracked down her number "and they started talking," says the source, noting that they first connected in January. And while Bristowe categorized their relationship as "a friendship" to E! News, the insider says the texts were flirtatious: "There was a connection, but they never met."

For that, the 34-year-old had to pull some strings. Once Bristowe learned she had a chance at becoming the Bachelorette, Viall realized his only chance to woo her was on TV. "He was upset that she'd been chosen," says the insider. "At the time, there were five different women in the mix, and she was very much a dark horse." Viall asked producers if he could come on, says the source. "It was a surprise to Kaitlyn. But the guys were, of course, annoyed. There was a sense of unfairness to it." Bristowe told E! News a few of the men encouraged her to follow her heart, wherever it took her, but "for the majority of them, they were not impressed."

Britt & Brady: In Love!

For Britt Nilsson and Brady Toops, the bloom is not off the rose! Together since early March — when the Nashville gospel musician, 33, bolted from the Bachelorette mansion to pursue the voted-off L.A. waitress, 27 — the two are dating long-distance. On March 23 at L.A.'s Neveux Artisan Creamery & Espresso Bar, she enjoyed a chocolate cone while he savored her company. "They were acting flirty," says an onlooker. "His arm was on her leg." Two weeks later, they cheered the Nashville Predators hockey team at an April 9 home game. Muses the show insider, "If Britt had been the Bachelorette, there's a good chance she would've picked Brady. They have an insane amount of chemistry."

Bachelor Nation's Doppelgängers

Tall, dark and dimpled: The salesman and season 13's Bachelor reach 6 feet.

Toops asked Nilsson to "be my girl" in the episode that aired May 25.

ANOTHER CONTESTANT BOLTS

When Toops left to pursue Nilsson, Bristowe said she'd have to find out "if everyone's here for me." At least one suitor decides he isn't. Angry with a date activity on the June 1 episode, the man skips out on potential face time with the Bachelorette. Instead, he packs his bags, declaring that he liked Bristowe but couldn't participate in a "circus." The insider reveals others were turned off by the Bristowe show. "She rubbed a few guys the wrong way. They thought she was just there to make out with lots of guys."

A BROMANCE DEVELOPS

On the June 1 episode, Arlis gushes about the connection he has made. The problem: He isn't talking about Bristowe. He and ex–investment banker JJ Lane, 32, "basically declare their love for each other," says an insider. "It was an instantaneous and emotional connection." A set source says the pair "isolated themselves in the house." They shared the hot tub and the shower, but not a bed, says the insider: "They never acted on the feelings." Nonetheless, Arlis deems his time in the mansion a success.

The pair even scheme to prolong their stay. Though Arlis admits Bristowe isn't a match, he does his best to convince her otherwise: "He was like, I need to stick around, so I need to act interested," says the insider. The fakery failed. "Kaitlyn didn't know about the bromance, but she knew they weren't there for her." And Bristowe says she doesn't suffer fools: "If I found out anyone was there for the wrong reasons, I would just have zero problem walking them out the door." Game on. US

Anna (with Josh Feb. 28 in Maryland) tweeted about forgiveness just days before the scandal broke.

For years, the ultrareligious Duggar family kept a dark secret: As a teenager, oldest son Josh had molested five underage girls BY JAMIE BLYNN

Josh Duggar was quick to issue an apology after a May 19 report confirmed that, as a 14-year-old, the eldest of the ultraconservative Duggar kids had molested five underage girls. "I acted inexcusably for which I am extremely sorry," he posted on Facebook May 21. According to a recently resurfaced 2006 police file, between 2002 and 2003, the 19 Kids and Counting star "fondled" the genitals and breasts of his victims — some in their sleep. (The report, redacted to protect minors, points to his sisters as four of the girls.) Josh's wife, Anna, 26, remains supportive, revealing that he had told her — and her parents — about the incidents two years before their 2008 wedding. In a statement, the mom of Mackynzie, 5, Michael, 3, and Marcus, 2, with a fourth due in July, described her husband as "someone who had gone down a wrong path and had humbled himself before God and those whom he had offended." After the news broke, the 27-year-old resigned from the conservative lobbying group Family Research Council and canceled an appearance. Now the revelation threatens to topple the iconic TLC family, jeopardizing their TV future. Us examines how they tried to cover up Josh's terrible secret.

His "counseling" was at a church-run facility

When Josh, then 15, confessed to his parents in March 2003, Jim Bob, now 49, and Michelle, now 48, did not go to the police. Instead, Jim Bob turned to church elders, who agreed

Anna and Josh revealed on the May 12 episode they are having another girl.

The TLC matriarch and patriarch espouse "purity" before marriage, instructing couples to avoid temptation by limiting physical contact and having chaperones on dates.

Josh "needed to be put into a treatment program," according to a 2006 investigation prompted by an anonymous tip. The teen spent four months doing manual labor at the Institute in Basic Life Principles Training Center in Arkansas. Founded by Bill Gothard (himself accused of sexually harassing female employees in 2014; no charges have been filed), the program promises to "find success by following God's principles."

An officer pushed aside his confession

Though Josh claims he turned himself in to "authorities" in 2003, he received nothing more than a "very stern talk" from a family friend, state trooper Joseph Hutchens. Police reportedly believed the statute of limitations had expired by 2006, and did not pursue criminal charges. (Shockingly, Hutchens himself is now serving 56 years in prison for child pornography.)

The victims did not press charges

Josh wrote May 21 that he "sought forgiveness" from his victims. Trained to be "helpmeets" to men, the girls complied. Indeed, the 2006 report has been expunged at the behest of the one still-minor victim.

The rumors fizzled out

In 2006, producers of The Oprah Winfrey Show canceled the family's appearance after receiving an anonymous email about Josh's sexual misconduct. Harpo execs forwarded it to Arkansas' Department of Human Services, resulting in the 2006 investigation. Commenter "Alice" recounted this incident in an online forum, posting in 2007 that Josh "has been molesting his sisters." Unable to provide proof, she was shot down.

Their fame shielded them

TLC stood by 19 Kids (and its 3 million weekly viewers), even airing a marathon the night the scandal hit. On May 22, the network pulled the show, still wishing its stars well: "Our thoughts and prayers are with the family and victims." It remains to be seen if their wholesome rep can be saved. US

Inmate Intrigue!

Have the ladies of Litchfield prison let their guard down? The drama shifts from "a little gangsta" to "a little lighter" for season 3, creator Jenji Kohan says. A key theme: faith. Explains Taylor Schilling, a.k.a. disillusioned inmate Piper, "It plays with the idea of how belief shapes our lives." No longer "baffled by prison," Schilling's character comes into her own, but others falter. Her on-off lover Alex (Laura Prepon) is back behind bars and despondent, and Crazy Eyes (Uzo Aduba) keenly feels the loss of mother figure Vee (Lorraine Toussaint). Says Aduba, "You see her decide what she wants to put her faith in now." Netflix, all 13 episodes available June 12

SUSAN'S SECRET LIFE

Sarandon talks grandkids and cultural icons with Us

Susan Sarandon does most of her television viewing in hotels. "I don't have a TV," confesses the star of Lifetime's The Secret Life of Marilyn Monroe (May 30 and 31, 8 P.M.). "I have one epiphany after the other when I suddenly see Teen Mom or Game of Thrones," adds Sarandon, 68, who plays Norma Jeane's schizophrenic mother, Gladys, in the adaptation of the 2009 biography. The mom of three (her daughter, actress Eva Amurri Martino, 30, plays young Gladys in the movie) gets personal with Us.

Q: Are you a Marilyn Monroe fan?
I think she was really tortured because she was so much smarter than she had to play in order to be successful, and I think it started driving her crazy. I feel bad for her.

Q: Why sign on for this role?
I'm always up for playing mentally ill. There are so many ways to do it wrong, so I was really challenged. I thought it would be a great learning experience — it was.

Q: Best part of working with Eva?
The first time we worked together was on Friends when she was 15. I just wept during the curtain call. She's really good and funny and so professional. I don't have to worry about her.

Q: You'd like Eva's 9-month-old girl, Marlowe, to call you "Honey." Why?
I was asking everybody, "What do you call your grandma?" My hairdresser said, "Honey." It sounded sweet, so I thought, Why not? ERIC ANDERSSON

In Netflix's thriller Between (now streaming), Jennette McCurdy plays Wiley, a pregnant teen who unites with other young adults after everyone in her town over the age of 21 mysteriously dies. "She's obsessed with Teen Mom," McCurdy tells Us. "I've seen quite a bit with her on sleepovers."

How Stars FAKE A TAN

Mariah, Jessie J, Rita and Rosie take advantage of every (golden) opportunity to call on London-based tanning pro James Read. The expert shares his best tips with Us

Read's 30-minute at-home visits cost $400 a pop!

Prep for Success

James Read's No. 1 rule: Never put new tan over old! A half hour before bronzing, combine the juice of one lemon or lime with a little water. Soak a cloth in it, then microwave for one minute to activate the fruit's exfoliating acids. Cool for 10 seconds; run over body in sweeping strokes.

Amazonian Clay 12-Hour Full Coverage Foundation, $39, tarte cosmetics .com

Airbrush Legs

Before taking a tan out on the town, mix a dollop of a luminizing foundation that matches the tanned skin with moisturizer and apply all over legs "to even out marks," says the pro. Another celebrity trick: moisturizing just the shinbones. "It makes legs look longer!"

Get Glowing

Dab a dime-size amount of faux tanner on forehead, cheeks and chin. Blend outward with fingers, says the guru, 38. (Rub stains off hands with toothpaste later!) Next, cover the body downward using a tanning mitt. His gel formulas for face and body go on clear to save sheets.

James Read Sleep Mask Tan for face, $38 for 50 milliliters, net-a-porter .com

Shave Kindly

"Razor blades lift color and cause streaks," warns Read, who advises waxing or shaving 24 hours before tanning. But if defuzzing afterward is necessary, reach for an electric shaver. "It takes the top layer of hair off to stop stubble, but keeps a tan intact."

Smooth and Silky 4 Blade System Rechargeable Shaver With Almond Oil, $40, remington products.com

Baby Bee Dusting Powder, $6, burtsbees .com

Prevent Streaks

Cornstarch soaks up product that clings to creased areas such as backs of knees. (It also sops sweat, which makes color run.) Five minutes post-tan, dust under arms and on backs of legs; rub until flecks vanish. The technique also "puts a stop to brown marks on tight dresses."

Blue/Black Berry Enzyme Mask, $34, olehenriksen.com

Face the Fade

The visage is the first place to lose luster, followed by the neck, says Read. So, three days after tanning, apply a thin layer of a color-diluting fruit enzyme mask (his pick: Ole Henriksen's skin-slougher). Let sit for 30 minutes, then rinse off. Repeat facial bronzing step (above).

Dwayne Johnson's earthquake pic registers low on the summer action scale

"This is bad," one male character breathlessly (and knowingly) declares early on in the film. He dies quickly thereafter, and, frankly, he's better off. Otherwise, he'd have to endure two hours of mindless disaster porn that falls on the wrong side of dumb fun. Our sturdy hero is Dwayne Johnson's Ray, an L.A. fire and rescue pilot with an estranged wife (Carla Gugino) and daughter. While his girl is in San Francisco, a mammoth earthquake strikes the entire San Andreas Fault in California. Buildings are collapsing, but dammit, Johnson is going to find a way to save her. Forget those Avengers — this guy can fly through burning rubble and move machinery underwater without a scratch on him! He often escapes death within milliseconds of the ground buckling too. Indeed, the film entertains on the sheer force of its ridiculousness and predictability. Consider, for example, a scene in which Johnson and Gugino ditch a damaged plane by parachuting into a baseball stadium. Upon his perfect-10 landing on the field, he cracks, "It's been a while since I got to second base with you!" (Hard to believe Lost and Bates Motel showrunner Carlton Cuse wrote this junk.) If there's a sequel, somebody please give it a serious shakeup.

CAROL

It's not too early to talk Oscar — and this deeply felt love story is already a hot contender. The divine Cate Blanchett plays a cosmopolitan divorcée who pursues a shy shopgirl (Rooney Mara) in 1952. The artfully directed drama shows its beauty in the most unexpected ways.

IRRATIONAL MAN

Woody Allen's latest combines the frothiness of Midnight in Paris and the sinister plot of Match Point. Joaquin Phoenix is a professor set on murder; Emma Stone is his bright paramour. Their May–August romance sparkles.

A TALE OF LOVE AND DARKNESS

Overachiever Natalie Portman wrote, directed and stars in this drama — told entirely in Hebrew — about a family's plight in Jerusalem after World War II. The aimless film is not nearly as moving as it should be, but credit the actress for the ambitious multitasking.

AMY

They tried to make Amy Winehouse go to rehab . . . and, alas, we know what happened next. Incredibly, the brutally dark and surreal comedy works. Colin Farrell decides to be turned into a lobster; plans change after he meets Rachel Weisz.

THE SEA OF TREES

So much for the McConaissance, sigh. This morose mess, starring Matthew McConaughey as a scientist who travels to a remote Tokyo forest to kill himself after his wife's death, got booed in two screenings. BY IAN DREW

WANT TO WANT ME / JASON DERULO

"My latest single is about the desire two people have for each other and the passion that comes with that curiosity and uncertainty."

MY TOP SEXY TRACKS

Jason Derulo, 25 — whose fourth album, Everything Is 4, is available June 2 — reveals the R&B songs that get him in the mood

ALL HANDS ON DECK / TINASHE

"It's an amazing pregame club record, as well as the sexiest video out. Everything is on point, from her dance moves to the seductive vocals."

COFFEE / MIGUEL WITH WALE

"Check the wordplay on this record — it is absolutely genius. Everybody loves, um, 'coffee.' What a perfect way to start your morning!"

7/11 / BEYONCÉ

"Beyoncé — enough said. Every note she sings is confidence at the highest level, and she controls any song. This is super-risky and playful."

SOMEBODY / NATALIE LA ROSE WITH JEREMIH

"Natalie's voice is so sexy. I want to hear this when I hit Las Vegas pool parties and everyone lets go of their inhibitions and goes wild."

EARNED IT / THE WEEKND

"The ultimate fantasy song. Play it and picture your lady giving you a private lap dance when you stay home with her on a Saturday night."

OUT TUESDAY 6/2

Florence + the Machine

How Big, How Blue, How Beautiful

The Machine keeps humming! Florence Welch and her gang pick up the pace in their wonderful tertiary effort, pumping extra rock power into a tableau of orchestral Brit-pop, blues and soul. Tearing through it all is the tornadic voice of a frontwoman hopelessly enmeshed in the throes of ill-fated love. Her angst — and octaves! — runneth over in keepers, including the furious "What Kind of Man." No dog days going on around here. (Republic)

"These chains never leave me," Welch wails.

HYDRATE SKIN FROM WITHIN

After age 25, your body's collagen levels begin to deplete at a rate of 1.5% per year. That means by age 40, you've already lost almost a quarter of the collagen your skin needs to be firm and smooth. So what can you do to help stop the clock? Lucky for you, we want to share three best kept beauty from within secrets for radiant, youthful skin.

1) Supplement Hydrolyzed Collagen to help stimulate the fibroblasts within your skin. This produces more collagen and supports your skin matrix for smooth, firm skin.*

"I was just really blown away by the difference!"
-Gigi Parker, Health&Wellness Blogger

2) Start a skin diet. Eating plenty of nutrient packed power foods such as fruits and vegetables can help your skin glow like never before. Fun food fact: Foods high in Vitamin C, like sweet potatoes, aid in collagen formation.*

3) Hydrate from within. You've heard it before for a reason. Drinking enough water is crucial to healthy skin. The "8 by 8 Rule" (eight 8oz cups of water daily) is a good rule of thumb, but factors such as exercise, environment, and health can change your necessary intake. There are many online hydration calculators you can use to find your optimal hydration intake.

FASTIN®-XR CLINICALLY PROVEN (150% stronger than 10mg Ephedrine) STRONGER FOR BOOSTING THE METABOLIC RATE THAN EPHEDRINE!†

Fastin®-XR (Extended Release) was subsequently launched based upon Hi-Tech's Exclusive, Clinically-Studied, Phenylethylamine Alkaloids derived from Acacia Rigidula (Thermo-Rx®). The findings from Hi-Tech's randomized, double-blind, placebo controlled study showed convincingly that Acacia Rigidula promotes significant increases in Resting Energy Expenditure (Metabolism)(12%+) still evident 3 hrs post ingestion. The clinical study on Thermo-Rx® showed an astounding increase in resting metabolic rate that was superior to the findings of previous studies which reported that 10 to 30mg ephedrine - once believed to be the Gold Standard of Weight Loss compounds - increased energy expenditure by 6.6% to 10% (Versus 12%+ Acacia). Thermo-Rx® combined with all the other components in Fastin®-XR was shown in the same double-blind, placebo controlled study to elevate Energy Expenditure (Metabolism) 371% when compared against Caffeine at 3hrs post ingestion and 871% over Placebo at its highest point. Therefore, Fastin®-XR was shown to increase Metabolism more than DOUBLE that of 10 mg Ephedrine in past studies (150% stronger than Ephedrine)!

FASTIN® RAPID RELEASES GROUND-BREAKING FAT LOSS AND WEIGHT LOSS STUDY!†

The powerful Fastin®-RR (Rapid Release) weight loss formula is the 3rd in the Trilogy of America's Strongest Weight Loss and Energy Aids! - Fastin®-RR was shown to elevate Energy Expenditure (Metabolism) 22.1 % in 45 Minutes when compared against Placebo and was (66% stronger than 30mg Ephedrine and 152% stronger than 10mg Ephedrine)!
- Fastin®-RR users saw an Incredible 16.6 % increase in Resting Energy Expenditure (Metabolism) over the first 3 hours with an increase of over 14.5% in Energy Uptake over the entire 6 hours!

In this landmark study Fastin®-RR (Rapid Release Caplets) was clinically shown to Burn FAT for 6+ Hours.
